“ Momma
I didnt have muuch time with you throughout my life. I love an miss you so much i think you are where you belong you have always had a hard life an I hate i wasnt able to help you more.... If I were born yet while you were growing up I would show you that life with the right people in it will change your whole outlook on people and how the world looks. I wish i were able to see you one more time but your time was up only if you had not of suffered I think my dealing with your death would be alot different I have your memories but I would love to have one last kiss or hug goodbye we didnt see eachother for a yr an 1/2 i cant believe its been that long i havent ever went that long without seeing you You will be missed on this earth but you will be a peace soon if everyone would just let you. Stay my gardien Angel love you MOMMA##imported-begin##Priscilla Ann Hammerschmidt##imported-end##

Her Loving Husband

*I loved Carol Ann when I first laid my eyes on her.
She was a very simple girl and a very complicated woman at the same time.
She found beauty in things where I saw nothing.
Nosing through her things one day I found tablets of writing. They were letters and letters to Jesus Christ. Just her, writing to Him, like anyone would write to a friend.
She believed him real which sometimes I don't. But if heaven is real, then I'm sure she's there. I have never written a single letter to Jesus. She wrote hundreds.
We were not living together at the time of her death, but we did spend time together still.
No matter how close or far she was, if she was happy, I was happy too.
I saw her the day before she died and she was suffering with pain, but she died and suffers no more.
Now I am left to suffer. We are left to suffer.
Carol Ann was not perfect, but who of us are?
But . . . In my eyes she was the most perfect person ever created!
