“ Charlie always did bring a smile to my face and the memories of a friendship with him at Baldwin High School will continue to do so. We did not know one another before entering high school but those memories are indelible all these years later. His mischievous ways, his being true to himself, his laughing with no sound (just the shaking of his shoulders) when he was up to something he should not be up to in English class....an irrepressible and authentic man who still is a boy to me! an old friend who still makes me happy. To you, his family, I send my sincere sympathy but my reminder to you that his spirit lives on....
