“ My heart is broken, I love this family like they are my own, Master D was like a father to so many, grandfather and loved our kids like his own. I am so sorry for the family loss; I know this is a major loss for all that knew and loved him. What a precious angel we have watching over us all now. Rest easy and thank you for your service and for your love.

“ I have so many fond memories of Master Drouillard, but the one that stands out the most is when I brought my son to take a class with one of his friends. Over my many objections, Master D was positive he could teach me how to break a (real wood!) board. I agreed to try, if only to prove him wrong. Well, suffice it to say that Master D provided my first lesson in how to believe in myself. A lesson that would change my life forever. I love you, Master D and Mama Sherry. Praying for you all.
