“ Oh Papa Gene. How I cried when I heard. I still carry on the tradition of the daily whooping with my girls. They have met you only once, but they will know about you an dHelen forever. I realized that I was in Hancock County on June 12. How life crisscrosses and we drift apart. Save me a place up there , and if you see Vicki and Micheal hug them for me. And save me a pair of overalls. I loved you then and I love you now. Rest, because one day we 3 girls are coming to see you again.##imported-begin##Katrina Clegg##imported-end##

“Daddy, I know you are walking the streets of gold and by now you've gotten a tool belt full of golden wrenches, screwdrivers and bolts! I hope you are already up there fishing with a golden rod and eating as much fish and cornbread as you want. I love you Daddy. I miss you. I want you to know that we'll take good care of Mama. She's picked some of the squash you planted in the garden. I am going to miss you squatting on your knees instead of sitting down and those overalls. You sure did dress up nice, but I just loved you in your overalls. Will is going to miss his Poppa...he loved you so much and loved going on a tractor ride. It breaks my heart that he and little Drew won't learn from you what it is to "hope" somebody or how to tend a garden. Will is always going to remember you, I won't let him forget. I'm sorry Daddy for all the times I was in a hurry and I thank you for raising me right. I love you with all my heart. I know you aren't hurting anymore; it was already breaking my heart to see you not be able to breathe and give out so easily. I bet you are running up there in Heaven...telling them you feel 16 again!!! I love you Daddy, your little girl and "Punk"...Michelle##imported-begin##Michelle Osborne Murdock##imported-end##

“Dad...I love you. So much comes to mind when I speak your name; I can't imagine our lives yet without you. Who will I turn to for answers when life does not make sense; If I could turn back time I'd tell you out of all the dads you would still be my choice. Forgive me for forgetting that a heart is like a garden that needs to be tended to and nourished with what only another heart can give. Today, Jesus, as you are listening in your home above; Would you go and find my dad and give him all my love. I love you Dad! Your Loving Daughter, Elaine##imported-begin##Elaine Johnson##imported-end##
