“ It’s been 5 months now and i am still as shocked as I was on day one. I struggle every day in just trying to find the right words to say to our son. He still talks about you and is very interested in knowing any and every detail he can get about you. I guess his way of holding on to you. I see the hurt in his eyes when seeing other kids with their daddy and I just wish you could visit him somehow some way to show him that he may not see you but you’re here with him always . You were way to young to still not be here on this earth with us. And Kamden is way to young to be having to live without his daddy. I see so much of you in him it’s crazy . You will live on inside of him for sure I willl make sure that he never forgets it either. I hope you’re finally resting in peace

“ I am both shocked and saddened to learn of Forest's passing. I was Forest and Austin's 8th grade math teacher and Trevor's 6th grade math and science teacher. I enjoyed teaching all three of them. I remember Forest as being a math genius. I was so impressed with his intelligence and the kindness he showed everyone. To his mother, Austin, Trevor and the rest of the family, I am praying that God gives you comfort and peace during this difficult time.

“ I still can't believe this, but I hope that you are at peace . You and Pood gave me the most precious gift I could ever receive and that's Kamden what an amazing little man . He loved his dad more than anything in the world . You will be missed my brother and I'll do everything in my power to help Brittany raise a awesome man that you'd be proud of . You are gone way too soon bro R.I.P

“ I can't believe this . I went to school with forest and have been friends with him for many years and I can say that man has been one of the most loyal friends I've ever known . It seems like yesterday I was at his house shooting my crossbow with him just having a good time and talking about ole times. He would give anyone the shirt off his back. He was a great man and a great father. It won't be the same without you brother. I love you bro ! Fly high and rest in paradise
