“ In school, everyone wanted to be Freddie's best friend, including me. He was very popular. I loved his entire family. His father, Mr. Ruel, was our bus driver. He also drove the bus to all our basketball games. Mr Ruel was the finest man that I ever knew and Freddie was his spitting image.

I roomed with Freddie in Macon for three months after my tour in Vietnam. I live in Milledgeville only a couple miles from Williams Funeral Home. If I had known he passed, I would have shown my respects; but I didn't know he died, and it has been difficult getting information regarding his death. Should someone care to call me, my number is 770-363-2419. Freddie may be gone but he will never be forgotten by anyone that knew him.

Before retiring and making a second home in Atlanta, I spoke with Freddie on the phone. I planned to meet up with him but that didn't happen. I visited with him several times in Sandersville on trips to basketball games over the years that were held in Louisville and a few other places. He was a great friend, always kind and never said anything negative about anyone.

FAREWELL MY GOOD FRIEND UNTIL WE MEET AGAIN.

“ Brenda, I am so sorry to hear about Fred. Me and Fred and Kenneth Spivey worked in Macon in the late 60's and we rented a house together. I use to run into him at Lowes and the trash dump. He will surely be missed.
