“ Jerry was the kindest soul and would do anything for anyone who ask him. He helped my husband and I with so much and was a great friend to us. He loved fishing and just a few days before this most tragic incident caught the biggest fish he ever caught and was elated and so were we for him. We miss him everyday and it's just such a void without him. God called him home and we must in some way know accept life without seeing him
Everyday and knowing he is with his Savior. God Bless you Jerry and thank you God for our good times with Jerry even though so very short.

There are so many things that Jerry was exceptional at. He was a man of many talents. He could spend the day arranging your yard or making and old toy look like new again when he got finished with it. The best thing about Jerry was that he was a loyal dependable friend. His smile and friendship will be missed. His soul was kind and loving and you couldn't have asked for a better friend. Our hearts are sadden with his passing but we will never forget him.
