

Geraldine Hilbert

December 8, 1928 - December 23, 2023

Geraldine Ruth Hilbert, 95, affectionately known by many as Sis. Stair, Gerri and Nana, passed away peacefully in the arms of her Lord and Savior Jesus Christ on Saturday, December 23, 2023 at her home in Cleveland, TN after a long illness with Parkinson's Disease.

Gerri was born at home in Emmaus, PA on December 8, 1928, the youngest of twelve children. She was a talented piano player from a young age, only playing by ear, while later in life she learned to play the organ and accordion as well. Her father was a minister and she grew up singing and playing in church and camp-meetings near her home in Emmaus, as well as Allentown, PA.

After she married, at the age of 22, she was a minister's wife for many years, where she traveled the country ministering and playing in tent revivals and camp-meetings with her husband and several well known evangelists from PA to CA to GA, while also being a devoted wife and mother. Later in life, as she raised her three younger children on her own, she truly exhibited her strength, faith and trust in Lord as she strived to raise them in a Christian home.

At various times in her middle age, she lived with Deborah and Ralph each for a few years and then in her older years she loved living on her own in Pembroke, GA at McFadden Place where she made life-long friends. After her diagnoses with PD, Deborah stayed with her until she moved in with Ralph in Ellabell, after that, she visited often with Terry in Milledgeville, Ralph in Ellabell and Brenda in Cleveland, before finally moving in with Terry in Milledgeville for several years. Then moving in with her grandson Joel for several years and finally ending up in Cleveland for her final home for the last four years with her granddaughter Amber.

While she lived with each of them she enjoyed attending church, being actively involved in church events, going to Southern Gospel concerts, playing piano in church, attending girls clubs events, being company for her children, daughters-in-law, sons-in-law, grandkids and great-grands, visiting with her friends and caring for others.

More than anything, what people remember most about her is that going to church and loving the Lord was her life and she did it well.

She was full of life, sassy, silly, loved her kids and grandkids and great-grands so much. She loved playing Monopoly, Scrabble, working on puzzles and having fun. She loved to go caroling to nursing homes. She was a member of the United Foursquare women and helped to support missions and missionaries.

A few of her favorite things were chicken and dumplings, root beer, three musketeers, chocolate covered cherries, chocolate ice cream and coffee.

She was a member of New Life Foursquare Church, while attending South Cleveland Church of God in recent years.

She is preceded in death by her parents, Rev. Sassaman Hilbert, Sr. and Mamie Hilbert, as well as eight brothers and three sisters, all from the Allentown, PA area.

She is survived by her five children, Dr. Terry Stair, Sr. (Debbie) of Milledgeville, GA, Deborah Ingram and Ralph Stair, Jr. (Lori), both of Ellabell, GA, Brenda Hart (Keith) of Cleveland, TN and Rhoda Roberts of Bloomingdale, GA, as well as seventeen grandchildren, Terry Stair, Jr. (Crystal), Scott Scheidt (Casey), Joel Stair, Sr. (Ayla), Jason Stair (Marielle), Donna Gandy, Jeremy Stair (Kristen), Heather Dickey (Andrew), Katrina Crosby (Devlin), Jonathan Hart (Alaina), Crystal Ingram, Matthew Stair, Jerry Douglas, III, Thomas Douglas, Amber Hart, Veida Stair, Austin Hart and Logan Stair, as well as twenty-four great-grandchildren and five great-great-grandchildren.
