“ I realize this was a long time ago, but Mr. Woodard came up in a conversation I had with a friend recently of great old memories, and I learned that he left us some years ago. I'm sorry I missed the services, as would have wanted to pay tribute to this fine man. He was an important figure in one chapter in my life, and I will never forget him for it. The days when J. L. ran the junkyard out at Avery Store Road hold a lot of pleasant memories and stories for me. Although I only ran into him on odd occasion after that, I continued to hold him in high esteem. He was very kind and a good friend to have. I was blessed to have known him.
