“ Mrs. Baxter and family, I am so sorry about your loss. Even though I don't know you all, my heart breaks for you. I can't even begin to imagine what you must be feeling. From reading about Mark though, and his spirit of love for family, I would say that he would want you and the rest of your family to hold tight to each other and lean on each other. I also suspect that he would not want you to give up your zest for life that he shared with all of you. In my mind, I believe that Mark would understand the grief that you have but that he would want you all to try and continue to enjoy the life that he created for you and with you. That could be one of the best gifts you could give him.##imported-begin##Harriet Agen##imported-end##

“ Mrs. Sandy and Family,

*You probably remember me as Lori McCrickard the receptionist at Stage One. I loved your whole family. Mark was one of my favorites at Stage One. He cut Brian's hair for awhile and he thought a lot of him. Brian would always ask for his advice and he always respected him. Mark was incredible. He was one of the nicest people I have ever met, or worked with. Mark would give me a hard time but he would always compliment me at just the right time. Mrs. Sandy he was "is" so in love you and thought the world of you. He was always so willing to work and made my job so easy at Stage One. The last time we saw him was at the Brick, with you and your daughter, Laura. I remember all of us sharing laughs and stories. Ya'll were so happy. I will never forget Mark or the laughs he shared with me. I know that times are really hard right now but I want you to know, you have a community that loves you and supports you. You will not be alone, even though it may feel like it, we are all here. Just remember he is watching over you and will always be with you. Brian, It has been awhile since I have seen you but I want you to know I think a lot of you. We have shared a lot of laughs and stories. I am so sorry this has happened to you. Mark was always very proud of you and always complimented you and your accomplishments. I hope you know how much he loved you. If you or your family needs anything please let me know. I am so sorry I could not attend the funeral. My co-worker was off so I had to work but I thought of you every minute. I wish you the best and may God be with you all. With love, Lori and Brian

“ I first met Mark in the library at Southwest Dekalb High School in the spring of 1975. He was a year ahead of me and it turned out that we both had study hall at the same time. From the first time I met him I knew he was a special person. Even at a young age his gentle and kind spirit was evident. I was 15 years old and fell head-over-heels for him. I'm sure he saw me as a friend and that's what we really were, but my young heart melted every time I saw him. I carried that torch for him for three years. I knew he went in the Navy and then I saw him at GA State a couple of times. That was the last I saw or heard from him. I often wondered where his life had taken him. I was so shocked and saddened when I saw the news story and realized that was my old high school friend. I am so sorry for you Sandy and all of the children and the rest of the family. The teenaged boy I knew was gentle, thoughtful, loyal and kind. You could see his sensitive soul through his beautiful eyes and shy smile. I'm sure you were blessed every day he was in your life. I have been married for nearly 25 years to a wonderful man and have four children. This tragic event has sent my thoughts back to those high school days. I am so glad that my friend had a loving wife and family and that he was happy and content. Our thoughts and prayers are with you all and I will always remember with affection my "first love"###imported-begin##Barbara Vassy###imported-end##

“ Sandy & family:

I am so sorry for your loss. Mark was so special & had such a great outlook on life. He's cut my hair for a few years now. He cut my hair last Thursday & spoke of the upcoming cruise. He often talked about his family & his best friend, Sandy. He was a wonderful person with a big heart & great sense of humour. I always left the shop smiling, sometimes laughing, from something he'd said. He took the time to get to know his customers. Sandy, I had the pleasure of meeting you last year & got the opportunity to see the love between you two. I then understood why he was so happy all the time. I will never forget his smile & his zest for life.

“ Dear Sandy,
I work at Oconee Regional EMS and have met you a couple of times but you may not know me by name. (I recently saw you at the pandemic meeting). I met Mark last year when i took my little boy to get a haircut. he was such a kind man. we were talking about my little boy needing to learn how to swim. before i knew it, he had called you up and asked you about swimming lessons. that meant a lot to me. he later cut and colored my hair. you know how long that can take so we had quite a while to talk. he would tell me that my hair was like yours (I never did really figure out what he meant by that). I think he didnt really know what to do with it. i thought that was pretty funny. i think he earned his money that day because i wanted my hair colored blonde and it is naturally dark brown and naturally curly. i could see that he was stressing about the outcome. it didnt take very long to learn that he was crazy about you. i have read some of the remarks made by other people and I think it is so neat to know that everyone seemed to know how much he loved you. that is something noone can take away. cherish your memories and find strength in God. I will continue to pray for your strength during this time. If I or any of the EMS family can ever do anything for you, please do not hesitate to let us know. All of us here are saddened by your loss.##imported-begin##Christie Beckham##imported-end##

I'm so, so sorry for your lost. I just saw Mark on Sat. morning at the shop. I can see him giving you some money and you saying you'd pay him back. I can hear him talking about taking another curise next year and that plans were made. We talked and laughed about our "gray hair".
I'll always remember that about Mark.....his smile, his laughing eyes and his outlook on life. Mark spoke about the his son and new daughter-in-law down in Cuba. And that he hoped his other son would stay in college in Athens.

Mark use to talk all the time about you, your work with the Red Cross and the kids. You could always see a light in his eyes when he spoke about you.....

“ Oh Sandy: Words just cannot express our sorrow for your loss. I can't even begin to think of any words that could possibly make a difference - well, because there just aren't any. Suffice it to say that you as well as your family our certainly in thoughts and prayers. I am so sorry that I can't be with you at this time - I'm in New York on a DRO (floods) and want us to get together when (or if) I ever get home again before the hurricanes start up. Again just know there are those of us out here who are with you, if only in spirit. If there is anything at all you need, please call Dick 968-0861. “ I was a client of Mark’s for a brief time. He was a caring man, and a very good hairdresser. He was always eager to make sure you were taken care of while you were in his chair. I’ve only been to Mark once and on another occasion I couldn’t get an appointment with him because he was all booked. I was excited to know that I was finally going to get an appointment with him July 15 because he was a great person. The news was very sad and shocking to me. I enjoyed the talk that we had the last time that I had an appointment with him. He talked a lot about his wife, granddaughter, daughters, sons and the many trips that he has taken. He will truly be missed.##imported-begin##Kim Cooper##imported-end##

“ Our deepest sympathies go out to Mark’s family.

Mark cut my and my three sons’ hair for many years. I enjoyed talking with him about his family and how he spent his time on the lake.

Your loss is our loss too. We will miss Mark and remember him as the kind person he was.

Again, our deepest sympathies and condolences.##imported-begin##Carl Langston and Matthew, Richard, and Mark##imported-end##

“ We were customers of Mark’s at his Stockbridge shop from the week we moved here in 1990 until the day he moved to the lake. We were devastated to hear of his tragic untimely passing. Mark was truly one of the “good guys”. A good, decent person with a true zest for life and love for his family. You are all in our prayers at this horrible time and we are so very sorry for your loss.##imported-begin##Melvin & Cheryl Ricks##imported-end##

“ My heart goes out to Sandy and the rest of her family in this time of tragedy and need.

I met Mark on a few occasions, though I find myself having difficulty remembering when they were. Regardless, I knew Sandy well and I knew him through her. If he was even half of the human being that she is, then the world has lost a kind and caring soul who was well worth knowing.

I can only hope that she and her family can find the courage to move on and become stronger through this; given the circumstances surrounding it, this may not be entirely possible. Though watching Mark’s spirit grow through Sandy over the past ten months, I believe that she and the others will find a way to make it happen.

My condolences and support go out to the family, both on a professional and a personal sense. Time is not our enemy, but a blessing, for it allows us to realize how truly precious what we see and know can become.

“ Dear Baxter Family,
I am keeping you all in my prayers, and I hope you can find peace during this difficult time. I loved getting my hair done by Mark because he was always such a pleasure to talk to and seemed to really be interested in the well-being of his customers. The last time he trimmed my hair, we talked about cruises because he had just been on one, and he told me that “if you get sea sick, eat an apple, and the nausea will go away.” I will miss getting my hair done by Mark, and I pray that the Lord will stay close by your side in the days to come.
Sincerely,
Ashley Faulkner
