“ Jason and I met each other in Carlsbad, CA. We connected immediately spiritually through discussions of Biblical scriptures, theology, and a deeper understanding of God. He and I prayed together often and discussed how our lives were before and after we accepted Christ. One of the most memorable Sundays I recall was him and I eating BelVita and having coffee (Jason had tea) before entering into a powerful moment of praise and worship, scriptural study, and prayers before singing along with our favorite worship songs on YouTube. We truly had church that day!

The other connection between us was we were both from Georgia. He was from Washington County (Sandersville, Tennille, Deep Step), and I grew up in Dublin (Laurens County). Plus, many of my family (the Swints) still live in Sandersville and Tennille, most of them having attended Washington County High School.

I miss Jason already; however, I am thankful for the God-given opportunity to have crossed paths with him. I looked forward to seeing him--oftentimes taking comfort in his silly laugh and very free spirit--because I knew there was a fellow Christian standing with me. Jason was very giving, showing no selfishness.

Jason, I believe, served his purpose in my life as I now crave a bit more knowledge about the nature of God and the faces of God, which was something he and I discussed and studied quite a bit during the few months I was around him. He desired knowledge and WISDOM!

Lastly, after I learned that his Christian name was "David," I began to refer to him as such and challenged him to know more about David and his rise through overcoming obstacles/challenges that he himself created. Yet, he was still highly prized by God, our Father. I now see more correlates between the two Davids than ever before.

My prayers are with the family. I hope to meet you all soon so that I can share a bit of my journey with my brother David Jason Peavy.

With love and care,

Fredrick (Fred) Stanley

“ I am so sorry to hear about Jason. My son John Giles & Jason were best friends in highschool. Jason spent a lot of time at our house. John just called me from Asheville, NC & was sad to hear that his friend had passed. The last time he talked to Jason he said he was a born again Christian & was living in California. Our prayers are for your family during this time.
