“ No matter how small he was or how old he was he was the same sweet and loving person that I loved as a child or brother. I'm thankful I had the pleasure of being his cousin and watching him grown into a man. His love for his family was powerful and precious. The calls to Julie on Christmas Eve always made our Christmas more special. I love you dearly and will never forget our shared times...It'll be all right.##imported-begin##suebrooks##imported-end##

“ Sherrie and family, my deepest sympathy goes out to you in the loss of a great fine man, Holly. He will certainly be missed by all. Never did you see him that he did stop and talk you, that was Holly for you. One thing for sure, he put up a long fight till the end and Sherrie you were there fighting with him. You need a halo over your head for being his guardian angel and looking after him during these long battles of sickness. One thing for sure, he's resting in peace now and not having to lay in that hospital bed. May God be with you all for peace and comfort. Just remember God loves you and so do I.##imported-begin##Eloise Griffin##imported-end##
