“ The right words are still hard to conjure in the midst of a dearly missed loved one. So i take this moment to light a candle to commemorate this particular day (11/5) to remember the beauty and shining light of one of God's truest of angels. You have earned your wings and your halo, for you are the model upon which all angels are based. I love you and I miss your sweet, gentle, never judging, always encouraging angelic voice. As you both look upon our families, I can only imagine the beautiful conversation you and Daddy are having right now...

- on behalf of the james-mccauley families, I pray for continued strength and healing for my uncle kelsey and cousins Angela, greg, and malissa, with love from Joyce (sister) and niece/goddaughter (cyndi)

“ To my family: Although I was not there in the physical body, I was there in Spirit. My heart felt every pain that you felt. God only pick the best flowers for His garden and Mary was the "best" Her sweet smile and soft voice will be missed by all. Continue to look to the hills for all your help. We shall see her and the rest of the family again.

“ My mother was the epitome of love and kindness. She had a servant's heart, doing everything she could for anybody she could. Her life was lived with purpose as she touched the lives of many. We love her and we miss her. Please keep our family in your prayers.

“ To my dear friend Sandra James Dobbins. I want to say that I am so sorry for the lost of your sister Mary. I know how close you And Pat were with her. I know it's hard right now but God will see you through. To the Kelsey Family I'm sending my deepest sympathies on the lost of your wife, mother and grandmother. Even through your pain remember that God never makes a mistake. He needed another angel so he chose Mary. Even through this we must remember that weeping may endure for a night but joy comes in the morning...🌹🌹🌹💔💔💔🙏
