“ Mama, there are no words in the english language that can describe just how I feel at this time. I hurt from the inside of my body to the outside. I can't breathe like I am suppose to. I don't walk like I am suppose to. Nothing makes sense anymore. And as I sit here writing this to you, the tears come steadily and burn the side of face and eyes. I know that time will ease my pain but right now I JUST DON'T FEEL. You were my life over the past 5 years. I lived you, I slept you and I loved you with every inch of my heart. I know that at times the REAL DIANE came out and I got frustrated at times but you always understood and forgave me. I was so mad at the situation that it overtook me sometimes. And when people treated you like a ragdoll, I became even something else. Mama, I too found a peace in your viewing but I wanted you to move over and let me lay beside you like we always did. I know that you had to leave this earth and that you are in no more pain. But you are my Mother and your job isn't finished. Your Daughters are in so much pain and miss their Mother. Please help us one more time and put your arms around us and SQUEEZE TIGHT.##imported-begin##Diane Hanson##imported-end##

“ Words can never say how much Aunt Pat was loved and how she held this family together so much of her life. She played such an important role in my life and was always there when i needed her. She was a woman that could do anything. I recall Danielle needing a poodle skirt for a 5th grade sock hop and calling her and she said she could do it. We went down and in less than a hour she had a 1st place outfit. We will all miss her dearly. I am glad that she is now out of pain and is with the Lord and many people waiting on her. I know she will always smile down on us. All of my love and prayers go out to everyone. Lil' Pat##imported-begin##Patsy Anglin##imported-end##

“ For my beloved sister:

God Saw You Getting Tired

*God saw you getting tired,
When a cure was not to be.
So He wrapped his arms around you,
and whispered, "come to me."
You didn't deserve what you went through,
So He gave you rest.
God's garden must be beautiful,
He only takes the best
And when I saw you sleeping,
So peaceful and free from pain
I could not wish you back
To suffer that again.

The Broken Chain

*We little knew that day that God was going to call your name,
In life we loved you dearly; in death we do the same.
It broke our hearts to lose you, you did not go alone.
For part of us went with you, the day God called you home.
You left us peaceful memories, your love is still our guide,
And though we cannot see you, you are always at our side.
Our family chain is broken, and nothing seems the same,
But as God calls us one by one, the chain will link again.*
