“ I have so many memories of my brother and favorites like when he named Kalene Andy K and bathed her in a big yellow bowl or when he taught her how to fish. So many memories through the years. But my absolute favorite is about rocks, I collect rocks and Richard thought collecting rocks was stupid he'd ask me why I had to collect rocks. I had no answer except for I like rocks He came to visit and went fishing with my son-in-law. Now I don't remember if they caught any fish but I do know that my brother came back with a rock, well a boulder to be exact and he was laughing so hard when he dropped it in my yard. I mean it took two strong men to roll it in place. You would have had to see the look on his face when I said I love it but why did you bring me a rock I thought you said rocks are stupid. He said Sue No now this is a rock and it's still where he dropped it. I will miss my brother but I can touch that rock and it can give me memories, I can drive to the Clearwater river and see him fishing or go further to Elk River he loved that place so much. I can go to Soilders Meadow and remember the look on his face when he saw it the first time My Brother may have lived in Georgia but there will always be memories here in Idaho.
