“ My husband and I moved to Milledgeville with Grumman in 1975. That’s when we met Rose and Dave and became friends used to go to their house for prayer groups. We have stayed in touch over the years and we were very lucky to be there to celebrate their 60th anniversary anniversary. You will be Mr. Rose.

“ To know her is to love her. Her light will always shine through her beloved husband and children making us able to still feel her with us. Memories of spending time together in her kitchens where I learned to perfect my Italian cooking, shared laughter and tears and listened to her recite Scripture to guide me through my struggles will never fade. Waiting for her to walk through the back door of Nicklina's with the love of her life to put her special touch on all that we created encouraged all of us blessed to work there to give our very best. You think you love one Haskell and then another walks in.. she was the driving force of that love in her family. She shared "Love is a decision you make." and decided every single day to share that love with each one that crossed her path. Time and distance could never lessen the strength of her influence in your life. Sharing in your sadness Miss, Steve, Todd, my heart Mr. Haskell and each member of your loving family. Grateful for the foundation of time in the Haskell family life that I'll always carry in my heart. She left enough love for all of us.
