“ I know Sharon would tell me to stop crying, but I can't help it. I pray for all of you. If there is something I may be able to help with, just call. I wanted to share a memory, one of a million, to maybe make you laugh. Sharon and I were at momma's when mom lived in the big house in Sebago, SC. We had stayed up all night talking, and being very tired but hungry, we went into the kitchen for a bite. It was early in the morning and we were trying to be quiet so as to not wake mamma and Ralph. Sharon was making a sandwich when mamma came round the corner, scaring Sharon so bad that she farted and threw the mayo jar across the kitchen and the knife up in the air...which managed to fall directly on mammas foot, which made her scream, which made me scream because the mayo jar went right by my head, then shattering on the wall. So we were throwing things, farting, and screaming together, I'm rolling laughing right now as i recall it. Sharons laughter was contagious and I will miss her so much. I'm sorry I could not be there physically, but I was....I am there in spirit. Love to you all.
