“ Vanessa, we at Living Water of Christ Church are deeply saddened by the news of precious Whitney's death. We were blessed to have met you and Whitney through her testimony at one of our women's conference. What a beautiful person she is. I loved how she greeted me at Emory and remembered who I was with open arms and plenty of love. Be encouraged and strong in the Lord. Forever in our thoughts and prayers. Love you much.

“ Whitney was always so sweet and I cherished every minute that we got to spend with Her and Vanessa. She Loved Her Mother Vanessa and Her Family more than anyone I ever met. Whitney's Journey was shared to help others with and without the disease that took Her Life, to understand how precious Life is, all Whitney ever wanted was to find Love and happiness and have a normal Life. She wanted a Family. Whitney is in Heaven, She's Healed, pain free and having so much fun with Her Baby Sister. I'll always Love Whit and Miss Her dearly. I'll be there for Your Mom and Family.. And Vanessa, You and the Family are in my heart and prayers, We Love You Dearly. Whitney's Journey really just started in Heaven, Thanks Whit for sharing Your life with us, You are truly a HERO, and a Angel, You've earned Your wings.

“ My heart goes out to you and your family. I have been privileged to share this journey of ups and downs, highs and lows, wins and losses. I hope, in the days to come, that you are lifted up by the way so many of us got to know God better thru the enormous influence you and Whit had on folks just like me, whose faith has been strengthened, fortified by your courage in sharing and bearing yours hearts and yes your very souls with us. I will always think of you and Whit when I wear purple! And have asked God to let me meet Whit when I join her in heaven. All my love, Trish Beach & Son.

You have been prayed for and thought of SO many times that you weren't even aware of...and will continue to do so..I have lost a child as well, although not to CF, there is no worse tragedy than burying your child. Whitney is now pain free and able to breathe and be active without restrictions. Please know you are stronger than you even know, and there are so many of us silently but DAILY and sometimes HOURLY, sending every ounce of strength, love and peace we can muster. “ I got the privilege to spend a brief time with this amazing young lady but it has forever changed my outlook on life. Whitney and Vanessa came through East Texas a few years back and spent the weekend in Longview. I had the honor of showing them around and spending time with them both. I grew so much inside that weekend just by being around Whitney and her spunk and zest for life. I have been in awe of both of these ladies ever since. I am honored to have them as my friends. We will all miss you Whitney. Fly high baby girl.

“ Whitney I only met you a few times and you were a little spit fire and was living your life to the fullest. All I can say is your fought hard and long and hard battle along with your mom. Vanessa where you got your strength from is amazing and I know I will have to go thru a similar experience later on with my son. However Whitney is now in heaven breathing with no restrictions and being feisty. I followed almost every post your mom or you put up. Not many people could do what you and your mom did. May God wrap his arms around your mom and give her comfort as I know you are looking down saying don't be sad because now I can breathe and do things I could never do. You have changed a lot of lives and I hope people will see how you fought off this animal as long as you did.

“ Praying for your family. Whitney was one of the most special people I have ever known. Even when she was terribly ill, she always had a smile and such courage and of course such devotion for her mother. God give you peace in this terrible time. Much love and prayers!

“ I will forever remember the sweet girl I met 9 years ago, my precious little Whit, you have been such an inspiration to so many people and now you've walked through those beautiful pearly gates, shining like the angel you were sent here to be. We will forever keep your memory alive and I know that you will forever watch over your beautiful Momma and so will we. I love you Whitney, keep shining bright like you always have. I know you and Stephen are probably watching down on us as I speak and saying to each other, I don't want my Mom to be sad, y'all just remember, we will be sad forever but, we also know that y'all are in a better place and we will be with y'all one day, oh how I wish that day would be soon. Your memory will live on forever in our hearts and souls.

“ For months now, I have followed your life's story, the ups and downs and the strides that you made on good days. You have fought a brave battle and did not lose the battle. With your Mom at your side, you faced every hurdle with every fiber of your being. You have been an example to all. This morning, the Gates of Heaven opened and you were called home. This is a better place for you having been a part of it. God Speed Whitney.....

“ Whit, you will always be an inspiration to me. Your strength and your faith have been unlike anything I've ever seen. While it's sad that you've left Earth, it's a huge blessing for you to be with our Heavenly Father and to finally be healthy again. Fly high with the angels sweetie...you've more than earned your wings. Nessa, my heart, thoughts, prayers, and condolences are sent for you. I pray that God gives you the strength and peace you need. God bless you my friend.

*With lots of love,

“ Nicole- whits cousin.

Whitney I love you with all my heart! You have been a blessing to everyone, especially our family. You've shown us just how amazing God is! You grew your angel wings before us but it's not goodbye, it's see you again one day! I'm grieving but I'm happy at the same time because you actually won the fight, you won a amazing life now with God and Lindsey, and Uncle Larry! Fly high! Breath easy now baby girl! I love you!
