“ I spent a lot of time with Billy about 55 years hunting rabbits and spending a couple of weeks at our grandmothers house next door to Billy. He was always nice and the quietest of the 4 brothers. I knew him as a hard worker.

“ Cousin Billy was a fine man! Never a lot to say unless engaged in conversation - a wise, introspective, quiet man. Served on gunboats on the Mekong River during the war in Viet Nam, one of the most dangerous jobs during that war, but Billy never bragged or talked about it. Very devoted to his wife and family; a rock-solid Christian! I enjoyed many days with Billy and all our cousins “down at Granny’s” as youngsters. He told me so many times in the past few years that he was eagerly looking forward to joining his sweet, departed wife, Brenda (the absolute love of his life) across the portal of Glory! Bless you, dear cousin & stalwart Christian, your journey has ended; bask in the light of Jesus in your eternal home! Well done, thy good & faithful servant, enter into the joy of your Lord - Matthew 25. Cousin Buba
